

Frequency, Resonance and the Morphogenetic Field

When you reconnect a circuit, you return the energetic nature of consciousness to the arena presided over by that circuit.

This energetic intelligence is electromagnetic and it is this electromagnetism that substantiates the wave patterns of frequency. The frequency is the shape of the wave.

It is these frequency wavelengths that dictate the dimensional paradigms of existence.

Everything is frequency... frequency is consciousness emanating from Source. The primal pathways utilized by frequency to express the intelligence of Source Consciousness are geometric.

(The geometric nature of consciousness is explored in 'The Sacred Geometry of The Template').

As you reconnect circuitry, you accelerate the frequency input of Source Intelligence into the incarnate body presence, recalibrating your vibrational resonance with the resonance of creation (see 'Circuitry, DNA and The Endocrine System').

You vibrate at a higher frequency, a frequency that integrates new spectrums of Source Intelligence, a benevolent vibration - love.

Just as the pure Human instinct is to reach out and bond through love, the primal drive of frequency is to search for a like frequency with which to resonate. As these resonant frequency waveforms embrace and share information they form a grid of unified frequency, a web of consciousness. It is the weave of these tapestries of resonance that dictates the fabric of realities.
